A symposium was organized for the students by the Department of History, Nalbari College, Nalbari on the topic 'Preparation Tips for Competitive Exams' on 21st December, 2019 at the Digital Class Room of the College. Renowned career counsellor Rajib Borah who is a faculty of the Assam School of Management, Guwahati was invited to enlighten the students on various aspects of competitive exams. As an expert on the field, Mr. Borah enthralled the students with various tips for preparing for a variegated field of competitive examinations like entrance exams for higher education or government exams that include banking, defence, civil services, teaching, police recruitment exams, etc. However, he emphasized that irrespective of the examinations, it is crucial to implement a plan of action with effective learning strategies and clear goals to be fully prepared and score well in all exams. He also provided a list of preparation tips to help the young learners to be exam-ready. It includes issues like creating a schedule, incessant practice, starting early, healthy mind set etc. The participating students eagerly participated in the interactive session that took place at the close of the session.
