

Department of Assamese
Nalbari College, Nalbari College

Programme Specific Outcome(PG):

1. The Highest degree of formal education in a subject is a postgraduate degree. Obtaining this degree means obtaining the highest degree. The course can help the students to acquire knowledge of Assamese Language, Literature and Culture.
2. This degree is required for the post of Professor of Assamese Subjects in any College/University.
3. Students can be employed in various language-related jobs by acquiring Assamese language skills. They can employ themselves in interpreter jobs, newspapers and various jobs in radio and electronic media.
4. Postgraduate courses are also required for research degrees in Assamese.
5. It will help the students to know about the knowledge of creative writing.

6. The course will help the students to know about different theories of literary criticism and its practices.
7. It help the students to gather knowledge about theatre i.e – stage, acting skills and others.
8. It can help the students to know about the knowledge of art and translation.
9. It further help the students to aquire knowledge on print and electronic media.